April, 20-21, 2018

Course Directors:

Bernadette Liegl-Atzwanger, MD

Professor of Pathology,

Department of Pathology, Medical University of Graz, Austria

Thomas Mentzel, MD

Professor of Pathology,

Reference Center for Dermatopathology, Friedrichshafen, Germany

Objectives

The intensive course is designed for general surgical pathologists and pathologists in training, interested in soft tissue pathology. The aim of the course is to provide a comprehensive review and update of selected topics in soft tissue pathology. The lectures will focus on lipomatous tumors, myxoid soft tissue tumors, mesenchymal tumors of the skin and the GI-tract as well as on the use of immunohistochemistry and molecular pathology in the diagnosis of soft tissue tumors. In addition, the clinical aspects will be discussed by providing insights in the surgical and medical treatments of soft tissue tumors. The participants will have the opportunity to review approximately 40 digitalized cases (virtual microscopy) four weeks prior to the course. During the course, the cases will be extensively discussed by an interactive approach.

Participants

This intensive course is designed for practicing surgical pathologists as well as pathologists in training. Attendance is limited to 100 participants.
